General Manager of Interborough Declares Company Is Far Behind Financially

Frank T. Hedley, vice-president and general manager of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, in answer to the order of the Public Service Commission to increase the express service during the morning and afternoon rush hours, submitted a schedule noon rush hours, submitted a schedule yesterday which represented, he said, the maximum service possible with the employes the company has at present. With more employes, he said, the service could be further speeded up. The commission had ordered a two-minute interval between trains during the rush hours. Mr. Hedley said he had been able to bring the headway down to two minutes and fifteen seconds with the men he has now. He said by the end of the week he thought he could make the two-minute mark. There had been no great increase, he said, in applications for positions. He still needs 400 men to maintain the schedule without working men overtime. He needs 1,000 men to bring the service up to the full requirement. The company has 300 cars ready for use when the new lines are opened, said Mr. Hedley. He runs ten-car trains in the subway express and sixear local trains.

War Workers Depart

Two Hundred Sail for France for Service

The Lamport & Holt liner Vauban left port last night for Havre with 222 passengers on their work to France for war work. This is the first time that a vessel of the Lamport & Holt Line has carried passengers across the Atlantic, its service being restricted to the trade between New York and South American ports and between Southampton, England, and South England, and South American ports.

American ports.

Among the saloon passengers were 110 Y. M. C. A. workers, 25 women and 12 men of the Red Cross and 23 men from the Knights of Columbus. In the second class were 55 chauffeurs.

Boy Scouts Brave Rain to Get Medals

Several thousand running, shoving and cheering American Junior Naval and Marine Scouts proved too much yesterday afternoon for either the dignity or the voice of Alfred E. Smith, who had been portioning out medals to them on the steps of City Hall, when a shower of rain put an end to the ceremonies and set the boys scurrying for shelter.

The medals were presented to forty-three members of the Scouts for excellent work in the fourth Liberty Loan drive.

Mr. Smith had been pinning on medals only a few minutes when the rain began. The morale of the organization grew weaker every minute at signals from anxious mothers on the steps. An ill-timed direction broke up the gathering in a burry.

rtrains in the subway express and sixcar local trains.

Mr. Hedley produced a table to show the difference in operating expense in September, 1914, and September, 1918. On the Manhattan elevated the operation cost was $540,623 in 1914, compared with $968,318 in September, 1918. The operating cost for the subway in 1914 was $461,544, while in 1918 it was $1,039,382.

Reporting on receipts and expenses for the New York City Railways Company for the month of September, Mr. Hedley testified that the receipts were $926,583, and the expenses, based on the plans of the commission, were $1,042,962. He said there was an actual deficit, and that unless some way were devised to reverse the figures the company could not live.

Mix, of New Haven, Believes

C. E. Fleming Killed Himself

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 18.—Coroner Mix to-day said he believed that Charles Edward Fleming, of 329 West
Eighty-fourth Street, New York City, who was shot and fatally wounded in a Church Street saloon, had committed suicide. Fleming, who had been a patient in a sanatorium at West Haven for several months, eluded his valet late Friday night. The next heard of him, according to the coroner, was when he appeared at the saloon and, before any one could interfere, sent a bullet into his brain.

Mr. Fleming inherited a large fortune from his father. His wife died several years ago. The funeral will be held from Mr. Fleming's late home in New York to-morrow.

A man of the highest honor and integrity, of modesty and of a rare kindliness, we lose in him one whose feeling was so genuine and whose interest was always selfiess and admirable.

His memory will remain one of the gentle lustres of the life which he led and which has come to so untimely a conclusion.

THE COUSINS AND RELATIVES OF SIMON BRANDE.
